

Mannkal-ECOMS Dinner

Mannkal's first student event for 2012 will be held in conjunction with the ECOMS society of UWA. Sarah Newton-Palmer will present "Finding Your Own Way" – ideas on how to successfully make the transition from university to the workplace.

"We work hard and expend considerable energy gaining our qualifications and proving that we have what it takes to take our place in the world. No sooner are we ready to go out and claim that promised place than we realise we are standing at a crossroad. Now life perversely asks something new of us: we are challenged to move beyond what we have learned in order to find our own way. In the 21st Century workplace it is not enough to simply be qualified, the demand for creativity and innovation is now high."
